QUALIFYING FOR AUTHORSHIP
In accordance with the Uniform Requirements for Manuscripts Submitted to Biomedical Journals, posted at http://www.icmje.org/:

* Authorship credit should be based on 1) substantial contributions to conception and design, acquisition of data, or analysis and interpretation of data; 2) drafting the article or revising it critically for important intellectual content; and 3) final approval of the version to be published. Authors should meet conditions 1, 2, and 3.

* Each author should have participated sufficiently in the work to take public responsibility for appropriate portions of the content. Note that acquisition of funding, collection of data, or general supervision of the research group alone does not constitute authorship.

Please check each statement that accurately reflects your participation in submitting this manuscript:

_____ I have read the journal's Author Guidelines, posted on the web at www.amjorthopedics.com.

_____ I have read the Uniform Requirements for Manuscripts Submitted to Biomedical Journals: Ethical Considerations in the Conduct and Reporting of Research: Authorship and Contributorship at http://www.icmje.org/ethical_1author.html.

_____ I certify that I qualify to be listed as an author in the light of the criteria listed above.

_____ All contributors to the work have been listed as co-authors or are listed under Acknowledgments with the nature of their contribution specified there.

CORRESPONDING AUTHOR ARRANGEMENTS

_____ The corresponding author and I have made arrangements such that:
The corresponding author has primary responsibility for correspondence with the journal throughout the processes of A) peer review and B) author review of the edited manuscript and the galley proofs. The corresponding author's approval of the final pre-press galley from the journal, after copyediting and layout, will represent my approval as well.

To ensure that all publications of Frontline Medical Communications, Inc., maintain the highest credibility and remain free of bias, the publishers must be made aware of any commercial or financial relationships (for all authors) that might lead to conflict of interest charges stemming from statements made in this article. The publisher may in specific instances request that an author’s stated commercial or financial connection be disclosed in a footnote; such disclosure will not necessarily suggest that a bias exists. Note: All authors must complete this form if the individual authors have differing disclosures, please make a copy of the form for each to fill out separately and submit with your manuscript.

TO THE AUTHORS:
We are looking forward to considering your paper for publication. To get the review process under way, please take note of the following:

FILL OUT AND SIGN THE AUTHORSHIP, COPYRIGHT ASSIGNMENT, AND DISCLOSURE FORMS.

Conflict-of-Interest Disclosure: If you note any relationships on the disclosure form, please draft a statement in the form, "Dr. _____ wishes to report that s/he has..." [specifying the relationships queried on the disclosure form]. The disclosure forms can be copied so that each author on a paper can complete a separate disclosure form.

CHECK THAT YOU HAVE OBTAINED ALL THE NECESSARY PERMISSIONS.

Did you obtain permissions for any tables or figures (including charts, illustrations, photos) that you are reprinting or adapting from previously published material? Even if you were the author of the source paper, it is probably the publisher that owns the copyright.

Has any artist who created an illustration for you signed over all rights to you? If not, note for us what credit line needs to appear with the art and what restrictions there are on its use (eg, can it be included if the article is later posted on the journal's Website or included in a CD compilation).

For any photos that may violate patient confidentiality, do you have the patient's written permission to take and publish the photo? (Or can all recognizable elements be masked?)

Additional information on permissions, patient privacy concerns, and illustrations is included in the Information for Authors found on our website, amjorthopedics.com.

ADD MORE VISUAL ELEMENTS?

Visual elements often enhance a paper, so we are now also routinely asking authors, even at this stage, when the paper has completed peer review, to consider providing additional color photos or illustrations (or have color versions of black-and-white photos submitted with the manuscript). If you do (and permissions are not a problem), please mail or email the material and indicate where in the text it should be cited.

Decision trees/algorithms are also valued by readers. Is it feasible and appropriate to create one for any portion of the paper (rather than reproduce or adapt a previously published algorithm)?
