Instructions for Manuscript Submission Form

The Journal of the American Academy of Child and Adolescent Psychiatry requires that a Manuscript Submission Form (MSF) be completed for each submission. Instructions appear below for completion of the Manuscript Submission Form.

A completed and signed MSF should be included when you upload your manuscript in the Editorial Manager system at <http://jaacap.edmgr.com>. Please include a fully completed MSF with your manuscript to eliminate delays in submission.

If you are unable to attach the manuscript to your submission, fax the completed MSF(s) to the Editorial Office at (202) 330-5097.

How to Complete the Manuscript Submission Form

Section 1

Section 1 contains brief instructions for completing the MSF.

Section 2

Section 2 contains information specific to the manuscript to be submitted. The Manuscript Number will be completed by the Editorial Office, but other items should be completed by the corresponding author.

Section 2 also contains a box in which the Acknowledgements and Financial Disclosures should be placed. This box must be completed even if there are no acknowledgements or financial disclosures from the authors.

If the authors have no financial disclosures, a statement such as the following should appear in the box: Dr. Stearns, Peirson, and Clayton report no biomedical financial interests or potential conflicts of interest.

If the acknowledgements and financial disclosures require additional space, an attachment can be included. (please indicate that an attachment is being provided in the open box on the MSF).

Authors' acknowledgements and disclosures will accompany the accepted manuscripts in print and online.

Section 3

All authors must sign the MSF acknowledging acceptance and/or certification of the statements found in Section 3. Authors who are not allowed to transfer copyright must still complete this form. Forms with signatures "on behalf of" or "for" other authors will not be accepted.

If authors are not able to sign a single MSF due to logistical constraints, multiple MSFs (which must contain the identical information in section 2) can be submitted with the manuscript.

What to Include in the Disclosure

All authors are required to acknowledge that the conflict of interest disclosures are complete for both themselves and their co-authors, to the best of their knowledge, when completing the Manuscript Submission Form.

JAACAP requires all authors to provide full disclosure of any and all biomedical financial interests. Further, JAACAP requires all authors on all types of articles (including letters) to specify the nature of potential conflicts of interest, financial or otherwise. This disclosure includes direct or indirect financial or personal relationships, interests, and affiliations whether or not directly related to the subject of the paper that have occurred over the last two years, or that are expected in the foreseeable future. This disclosure includes, but is not limited to, grants or funding, employment, affiliations, patents (in preparation, filed, or granted), inventions, honoraria, consultancies, royalties, stock options/ ownership, or expert testimony. The conflict of interest statements should be included on the Manuscript Submission Form at the time of submission for all article types. Authors should contact the Editorial Office with questions or concerns, but should err on the side of inclusion when in doubt.

What to Include if an Author Has No Disclosures

If an author has no conflicts of interest to declare, this must be explicitly stated in the open box on the MSF. For example, Dr. Stearns reports no biomedical financial interests or potential conflicts of interest.

Will the Corresponding Author Be Able to Check the Disclosure in the Proofing Stage?

Authors' disclosures will accompany the accepted manuscripts in print and online. Corresponding authors are responsible for making certain that their final, accepted manuscript and page proofs provide the accurate and complete disclosures as provided on the MSF.
